GIGANTIC

Collection of World Wonders to Be Seen in Circus Here Friday.

The great London aggregation of colossal and renowned features will be in Clarksburg Friday, September 24.

Aerobats from the old world and the new; giants, pigmies, beasts of the wildest forests of the world; strange birds and daring bareback riders are with the circus.

Circus day comes around about right. A fellow gets old during the winter. Notes fall due; things must be attended to; life looks serious any way one looks at it. A thousand things press down upon the mind until the head aches. Wrinkles grow deep during the winter, and the hair borrows a tinge from the frosts. It's different circus day. You're a boy again—or ought to be.

The $25,000 Glasgow prize horses are also with Howe's London show this season. Beauties say the critics everywhere.

Surviving relatives of the deceased man are his widow, two children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cole; two brothers and three sisters.

Mr. Cole was a devout member of the Baptist church and had a host of friends who were pained to hear of his death. He had been ill for a long time.

DEATH PENALTY

Not Helping Prohibition

(From the Wheeling Intelligencer.)

Such underhanded activity as that developed in the case of a respectable, law-abiding citizen of Clarksburg, who was arrested by Monongalia county officials last week for an alleged violation of the Yost liquor law is apt to do more toward bringing prohibition into contempt than anything else that could well be devised.

William Nussbaum, a clothing merchant of Clarksburg and a resident of that city for the last thirty-six years, went to Point Marion, Pa., ten miles from Morgantown, to bring home by automobile a consignment of wines and liquors he had ordered shipped to that point. They were for his own personal and family use and at the trial he testified that all packages were labelled according to law. There was no attempt to conceal his quantity or character. Nevertheless, Mr. Nussbaum was apprehended, fined $100 and sentenced to serve two months in the Monongalia county jail, from which judgment he has taken an appeal.

Here is a plain case of no intention to evade the law. Mr. Nussbaum's character and standing as a business man and his gentility as a citizen made preposterous the suggestion conveyed by his arrest, an act unduly humiliating under the circumstances.

After reading the account of the arrest and conviction as related in the columns of the Morgantown Post-Chronicle, it would appear that the authorities had no choice in the matter, but were there was such evident absence of intent to deceive or defraud, some greater discretion of its application might have been resorted to without in any way violating the legal properties. The Intelligencer is well aware of the subtleties used by the bootleggers, but where it is clearly shown that the possession of liquor was for personal and family use, which no law forbids, or can forbid, the error was on the side of injustice and hurtful to the cause of prohibition instead of promotive.

INQUEST

Is Being Conducted by Jury into Mine Fatality at Reynoldsville.

A coroner's jury, empaneled by Magistrate R. Edward Kidd as acting coroner, to investigate the death of Richard Adcock, fire and mine boss of the York mines of the Hutchinson Coal Company at Reynoldsville, who was killed when a gas explosion occurred in the mines Tuesday morning, met at the Wagon Undertaking Company's establishment on West Pike street at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. After viewing the body of the dead man a number of witnesses present were examined and adjournment was taken until 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon when officials of the gas company who own the wells near the mine, could be summoned to appear before the jury to answer certain questions which will have a bearing on the case.

The jury is composed of C. L. Ford, Grant Davis, James J. Coughlin, Laco Wolfe, Charles Camp and Charles Long.

The funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the Adcock home at Reynoldsville and the burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery at O'Neil.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Boards Are Installed for Trains at the Local Railroad Station.

Announcement boards indicating the destinations and time of departure of all trains were installed today at the Baltimore and Ohio railroad station as the result of suggestions made to the railroad company by the Clarksburg Board of Trade.

Several weeks ago the board of trade took up with the railroad company the question of using announcement boards to indicate the destination of trains leaving Clarksburg, especially local trains leaving from the group of tracks directly west of the station. It had been found very confusing to the traveling public generally to find out just which train to get on and many mistakes had been made, passengers leaving Clarksburg on the wrong trains. The suggestion of the board of trade was promptly considered by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

DIVIDEND

Rate is Raised to Six Per Cent Basis by Westinghouse Company.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Directors of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company today declared a quarterly dividend of one and one-half per cent on the common stock, placing that issue on a six per cent basis as against the four per cent rate paid since 1913.

In connection with the increased dividends the directors issued this statement:

"The company has received firm contracts for the manufacture of war munitions aggregating approximately $60,000,000, the greater portion of which is a contract for rifles which is to be executed at factories in New England especially acquired for the purpose."

SPECIAL

Train is to Be Chartered for Clarksburg Night at Salem Bromley Meeting.

The committee on arrangements for Clarksburg night at the Bromley meeting at Salem, next Friday, has decided to charter a special train, leaving here at 6:45 p. m., and returning about 10 o'clock.

The committee is anxious to have 400 or 500 Clarksburg people to take advantage of this opportunity to attend the Bromley meetings. It is planned to have a band along to furnish the music for the occasion. Everybody is cordially invited to attend in order to show Salem that Clarksburg is alive and interested in the great revival that is taking hold of the people of that thriving little city. The round trip fare will only be 50 cents. The train will stop at Adamston to take on and discharge passengers at that point.

All persons interested in the success of this undertaking and who will plan to go should call Bell phone 241, or Home phone 46 and indicate such desire.

TO RESUME

At Once is the Big Coal Mining Plant at Annabelle.

The vast coal mining plant of the Four States Coal and Coke Company at Annabelle, closed since the first of August, is to resume full operation just as soon as the mine can be gotten in condition. Every miner who is residing at the property will be given employment tomorrow. By the end of the week or ten days W. J. Wolf, manager, hopes to have from 500 to 550 men in his employ.

While the outlined improvement in the coal business has indicated that this mine would be placed in operation in the near future, the orders from its receivers for the company to put it on full capacity, received yesterday, caused a surprise in mining circles and much elation among the men and their families.
